This is a Safe Space

We understand that everyone is entitled to their own opinion, and we want to foster a safe atmosphere where everyone feels comfortable to share their thoughts and experiences openly and respectfully.

In discussing this topic, the goal is to enhance our understanding of each other and the beautifully diverse world around us. We thank you all for remaining respectful and contributing to our shared knowledge.

What's the Why?

The LGBTQ+ Community

What is Pride?

Pride is the promotion of the self-affirmation, dignity, equality, and increased visibility of lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people as a social group.

Pride, as opposed to shame and social stigma, is the predominant outlook that bolsters most LGBTQ+ rights movements.

LGBTQ+ Throughout History

While the LGBTQ+ rights movement started long before the 20th century, much of the information on this topic has not been recorded. Modern LGBTQ+ scholars often consider the movement to have gained steam around the 1920s with the founding of several gay rights societies.

Tea Dance

- Tea dances started as a Sunday afternoon event that was held by members of the LGBTQ+ community in New York in the 1960s, when it was illegal to serve alcohol to openly gay individuals.
- Tea dances spread around the world in the decades following.
- The name was used as a nod to the tea dances held in the English countryside.

Making a Difference

Here are just three examples of LGBTQ+ leaders making a difference for all of us.

Sara Josephine Baker was the first woman to receive a doctorate in public health and the first woman to be a professional representative to the League of Nations.

Alan Hart was an American physician who pioneered X-Ray screening for Tuberculosis, saving thousands of lives through early detection.

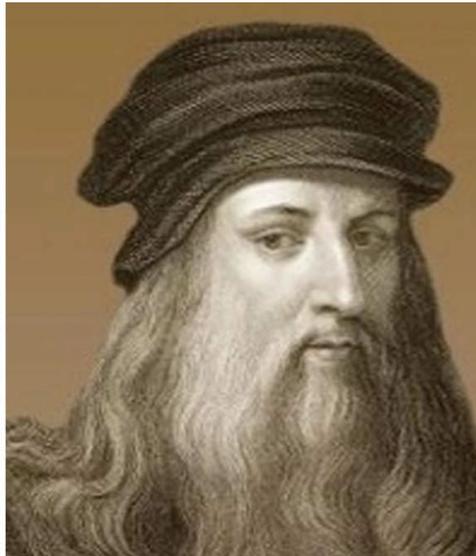

Joseph Sonnabend began volunteering at the Gay Men's Health Project in Greenwich Village. After opening his own clinic in 1978, Sonnabend was one of the first care providers to recognize the AIDS Crisis.

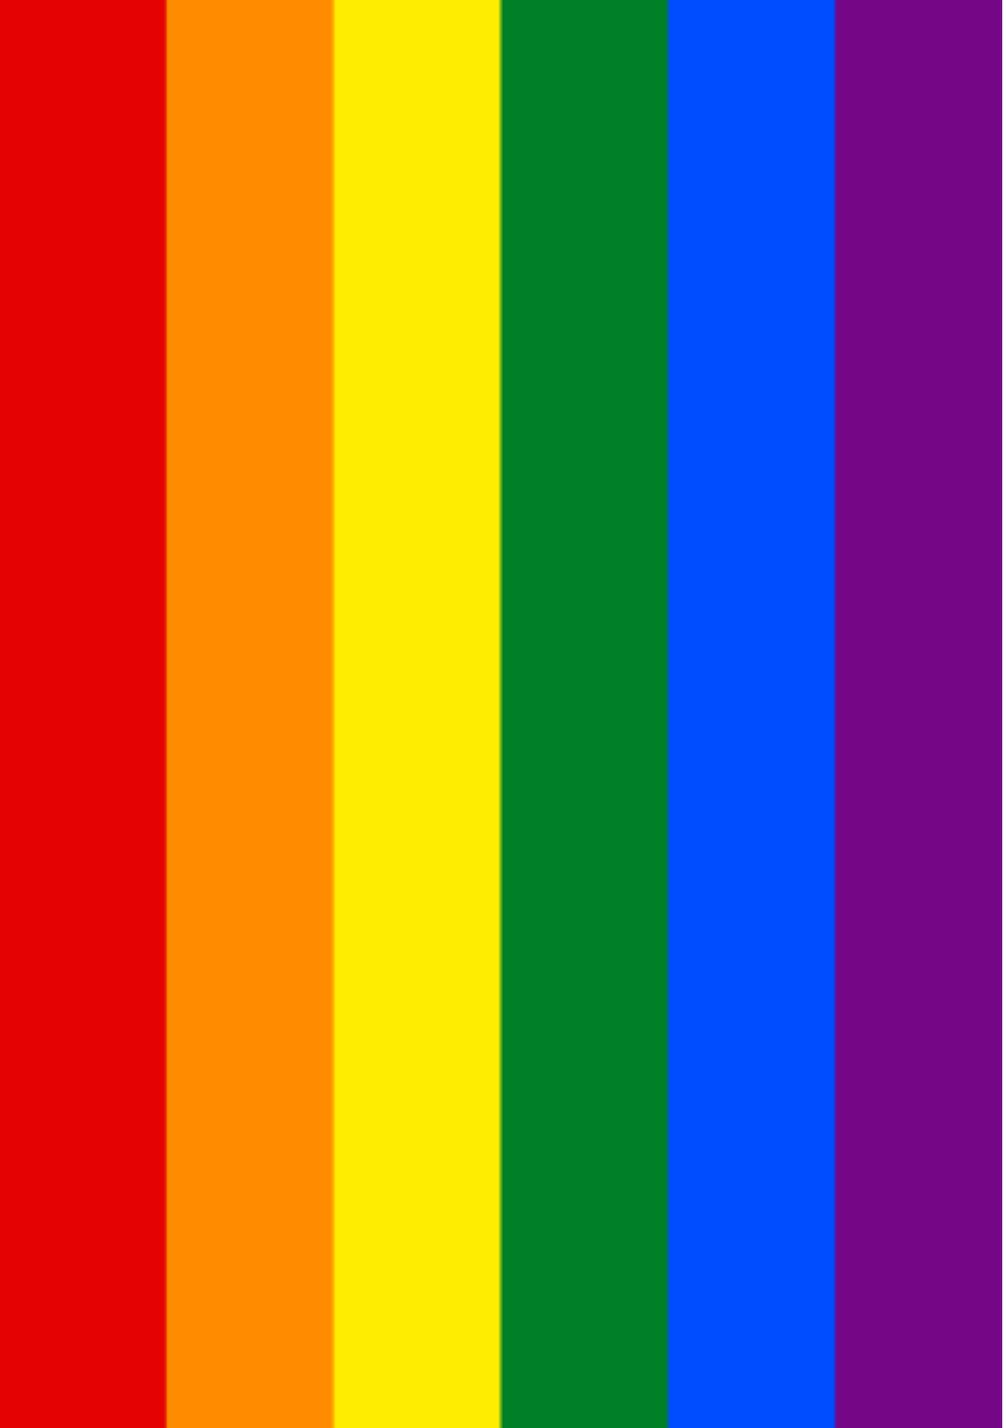

Arts and literature

Provide examples of art and literature that are significant to Pride Month.

Interesting facts

Some facts to be PROUD of:

- The rainbow flag was designed in 1978 by Gilbert Baker.
- President Obama announced the designation of the first national monument to LGBTQ+ rights in 2016.
- More than 2.4 Million Americans over 65 identify as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual or Transgender.
- In total, more than 26 million US adults openly identify as LGBTQ+

Show Your Pride!

It doesn't matter how old you are, where you live, or who you love, you can be an ally by showing you care and support for human beings of all kinds!
